Michael's story overleaf gives an example of how the Project can help people.

How the Pastoral Care Project helped me

by Michael Cauchi

When one is endeared to someone for a great part of a lifetime, one finds it so painful to let go... My wife.... I was losing her. Someone pointed me towards Pastoral Care Project and there began an easing of the heaviness of my heart.

Pastoral Care Project, together with the clergy was the balm, lifting my mantle of despair. Reaching to the heart and spirit... not physical healing but spiritual...out of the darkness into the soft light of the dawn.

Michael's In Memory of...Page "Yvonne"

Do not depart from me
there is no grieving while life still flickers.

There is no grieving while hope dwells within us.

I watch and remember how
she stirred my heart,
made my pulse quicken.

I remember the sharing for in sharing we love.

Do not depart from me.

Let me whisper stories of long ago.

I know you cannot hear me
but I will tell stories of special togetherness...

For now and then,
a word, a syllable,
will bring a mist to your eyes,
a mist of tears
a mist of remembering.

Remembering the person we loved...

The Day of Prayer for Dementia has been created by the Pastoral Care Project. This is celebrated on the 19th March each year and remembered all year round.

On the 19th March, special prayers are said in many churches and schools for those who have dementia; those who care for them and for people who are bereaved. The increasing number of churches and schools taking part is so encouraging.

The website www.dayofprayerfordementia.org.uk - "In Memory of.." pages gives people the opportunity to have a web page created in memory of their loved one.

This can be a dignified way of honouring the person that has passed away. This can be shared with your family and friends, especially when they live far away.

This page is your sacred space and you can use it for your own special message. Other people have chosen to include personal messages, poems and photographs

Your page is your sacred space

We understand it can be a little daunting using online services; which is why we have produced this easy to complete form.

Just complete and send it to the office and we will do the hard work. You will have your own sacred "In Memory of.." page, which you and your family and friends can visit at any time. The page will be kept on the website for a minimum on 1 years.

All we ask is that, where possible, you send a donation to cover the costs.

Pastoral Care Project

The Pastoral Care Project charity raises awareness to the spiritual needs of the frail elderly - enabling carers to support them in their journey to the fullness of life.

At the Pastoral Care Project we have a variety of resources available which have developed from sharing in the journey with families affected by the illness dementia. Day of Prayer for Dementia and In Memory of... is just one of them.

"In our hour of need we look to you"
(Parish Prayer - available from the website)

In addition to the "In Memory of..." pages, the Day of Prayer for Dementia website also offers:

- ⌋ The history of the Day of Prayer for Dementia
- ⌋ Prayers and Resources
- ⌋ "Pray for..." request pages
- ⌋ Information on our links with Schools
